

TALBOT EMBEDDED: Seminary in Portland Equipping leaders where they are, for a lifetime of impact

Why Talbot Embedded?

Talbot Embedded is seminary education designed for students who want the full depth of a Talbot School of Theology education in a flexible, local format. Many students feel torn between pursuing rigorous theological training and staying rooted in their current ministry, church, or community. Talbot Embedded bridges that gap.

Stay rooted: Serve faithfully where God has placed you while earning a fully accredited MA.

Go deeper: Engage Talbot's rigorous biblical and theological training in a close cohort community.

Be formed: Grow in spiritual maturity, academic strength, and ministry skill within a Christ-centered community.

What Does the Program Look Like?

Talbot Embedded brings the MA and MDiv to your location. Courses blend online learning with in-person cohort intensives at a local host site. This model keeps students rooted in their church and ministry while they learn from Talbot's trusted faculty.

Hybrid courses: Online learning paired with three yearly in-person gatherings (Thursday–Saturday).

Cohort model: Learn and grow alongside a group of peers walking the same journey.

Talbot faculty: The same professors and curriculum as students on Biola's main campus.

Practical integration: Apply classroom learning directly into your local ministry and life.

Portland (summer 2026)

We are preparing to launch our first Portland area cohort in the summer of 2026. Interested students can begin connecting with us now as plans take shape.

An incredible scholarship opportunity is available for all students who join a constituted cohort.
